

Arka Saha – Candidate for Vice President for Clubs

Hello everyone, my name is Arka Saha, and I am running for Vice President of Clubs under the Stand on Business party. At a university as large as UB, our 200+ student organizations are the true heartbeat of campus life, yet they are often held back by unnecessary bureaucracy and a lack of direct support. I am running on a platform to bridge the gap between the Student Association and the students on the ground. My goal is to ensure that every club, from sports to engineering to cultural orgs, has the resources and the freedom they need to thrive without being buried in red tape.

A major focus of my platform is a complete overhaul of how we support our Sports Clubs. These organizations face unique logistical hurdles, and I intend to be their most vocal advocate. I will work tirelessly to better communicate with Sports Club E-Boards to resolve issues regarding practice space and storage. Furthermore, I plan to change the restrictive ways clubs currently affiliate with outside organizations. If a partnership with a national governing body or a local firm can provide your club with more opportunities, SA should be facilitating that growth, not standing in its way.

To truly "stand on business," I believe a leader must be present and accessible. I am making a personal commitment to attend at least one meeting of every single club under my purview. I don't want to be a name on an email; I want to see your operations firsthand so I can understand your specific challenges. I will also establish a collaborative partnership with all club presidents to co-author better, more practical laws for club regulation. By working together, we can replace outdated rules with common-sense policies that actually serve the students.

Efficiency and fairness are at the core of my administrative goals. I will streamline the appeals process so that minor misunderstandings don't result in frozen budgets that block you from hosting events. Efficiency also means ensuring transparency, which is why I will implement a standardized, fair, and democratic process for all club elections. I want to ensure that every student leader feels empowered and every club member feels heard.

I am running for this position because I know what it feels like to be just a number in a system that seems indifferent to your hard work. I've seen the late nights you put into your organizations and the passion you have for your communities. You deserve a Vice President who doesn't just sit in an office, but someone who stands in the room with you, who hears your frustrations, and who carries your fire into every meeting with the administration. This isn't just about policy for me; it's about making sure the place we call home actually supports the dreams we're building here. I am here to fight for you, to advocate for you, and to ensure your legacy at UB is never left in the dust.

Vote Arka Saha for VP of Clubs. Let's stand on business for our future.
